of Nine to Two. The Nationals left here last night on the New York train to play the Albanys the two remaining championship games due between these two clubs. Some six weeks ago Manager Scanlon made a proposition to the Albanys to finish the series, offering to guarantee $500 or take the same, play the games here or in Albany, and designating Mr. Robert Ferguson as umpire. A bout ten days ago he received an answer from Manager Arnold that owing to other engagements the Albanys could not play the games this season. Last Saturday Manager Arnold telegraphed that he would accept the proposition, and named to-day and to-morrow to play the games, with Wednesday for an exhibition game. At the same time he proposed that the two clubs should play their present teams, and there should be no importations on either side specially secured for these contests. When it is stated that prior to sending the offer to play Albary hed

With all the changes the Albanys have, the team sent from here believe that they are able to cope with them, and promised their friends on departing that they should do their utmest to win. The score of the games will be received by innings at Scanlon's and the other places where the at Scanion's and the other places where the returns have been announced in previous games. As these games will finish the season for the Nationals, some of their players will not return here. The men signed thus far for next year are Lynch, Trott. Derby, Baker, McClellan and Latham. To these are to be added Soyder and Gerhardt. Two more men are wanted and will be secured in good time. Two of the Sunday papers yesterday published what purported to be the correct average of the Nationals for the season. This was a little Nationals for the season. This was a little premature, as the season has not yet closed, and consequently when the Albany games are played the average will be somewhat different.

The Nationals and Providences.

The Sationals and Providences.

The game between the Providences and Nationals last Saturday resulted directly the reverse of the one played on the day previous. The visitors started out by batting Lynch pretty strongly, and in the first two innings secured seven runs, earning four. After that Derby word in visits and for seven include Derby went in to pitch, and for seven innings the Providences only added two runs to their score. The home team neither batted nor fielded as well as they did in the first game, and obtained only two runs.

A Mixed Case.

Whether the owner of the property or the contractor engaged in erecting a building is liable for violations of the building regulations is a question which the courts seem unable to decide. Last Friday Mr. W. J. The contractor for plastering in Mr. Partelin's house was fined for a similar offense in the Police court on the same day. As there is no appeal from the Police court, beyond the Criminal court, the question is likely to remain a mixed one. A feature in Mr. Partello's case, and in most all similar cases, is that the arrest was made without any prethat the arrest was made without any pre-vious warning. It is a question whether it is not the duty of a police officer to first notify the contractor to comply with the regulation before having him brought before the court.

A DEPLORABLE TRAGEDY. wicide by Hanging—The Sad Death of Mrs. M. F. Lerch.

About 8 o'clock yesterday morning a terrible tragedy was enacted at No. 714 Seventh street northwest, by which Mrs. M. P. Lerch, a well-known milliner and dealer in fancy goods, put an end to her life. The details of the affair, as related by the family, are substantially as follows: Nearly three years ago Mrs. Lerch went to Germany to visit her parents, whom she had not seen for a number of years. They lived in Bavaria, which was her objective point. Before the vessel in which sie satied reached its destination her parents died, which was the first news that greeted her upon landing. She became a prey to melancholy, and postponed her trip home, returning to this country a few days after she had left it. Her actions since her return have been of a singular nature, and have frequently cansed her family considerable trouble. It was found advisable about a year ago to send her to the insane asylum. But she improved creatly and family considerable trouble. It was found advisable about a year ago to send her to the insane asylum, but she improved greatly and was returned to her home. Within the past few weeks her malady broke out again, but there was nothing violent in her actions. She would sit in her room staring at people in a meaningless way, and seemed anxious to avoid conversation with any one. No ides of her terrible fate was entertained by any one, as last Saturday night she was much better and partly promised to attend the wedding at the last Saturday night she was much better and partly promised to attend the wedding at the Synagogue yesterday, being well acquainted with the bride and groom. Yesterday morning she came down stairs and remained until twenty-five minutes past 7 o'clock. Her husband remarked to her, "Hadn't you better go up stairs and lie down till breakfast is ready?" She said she thought she would, and immediately wunt up to her room. About 8 o'clock her little son was told to go About 8 o'clock her little son was told to go up and tell her breakfast was waiting. He was gone but a few minutes when he called to was gone but a few minutes when he called to his father to come up stairs quick. Mr. Lerch immediately ran up to his wife's room and saw her on the floor in a kneeling posture with a bandage around her neck, one end of which was attached to the bed post. He caught hold of her and loosed the bandage, when she fell over in his arms, perfectly limp. To his dismay her husband discovered that she was not breathing. He sent around the corner for Dr. Bebrend, who was soon in attendance. He Behrond, who was soon in attendance. He found life extinct, death having resulted from strangulation. The cord used by the victim of this rash act was a narrow strip of cotton, doubled four times and knotted at short distances. She had made a running noose in one end, which she placed around her neck, and attached the other to the bedpost. Her position indicated that she had tied the cord close up to the post and fallen on her kness drawing them an close of the floor. her knees, drawing them up clear of the floor, and throwing her head back, strangled herself. An Illinois grain dealer made $13,229.41 in two investments. A Michigan farmer invested $50, which yielded $433.14. He made by three investments over $3,000. A Wisconsin country increhant made $41,245.15 in four combinations. try increhant made $1,285.15 in four combinations, and others have done equally as well. New ex-plainatory circular, with "Unerring rules for suc-cess," mailed by Messrs, Simpson & Co., Bankers, 49 Exchange Place, New York City.

Rich Speculations. Rich Speculations.

A brakeman on a Western railroad placed $50 in a combination, which turned a profit of $3% per cent., equal to $387.50 per one hundred shares, netting a profit of $13.25, in addition to the $50 he invested. A conductor made $1,176.24 in two combinations. The superintendent of an Rawtern railway made $16.210.13 in three combinations. Others have also made large profits. This system of stock speculations consolidates the interests of thousands into one whole, dividing the profits pro rata every thirty days. The combinations, handled with the best skill and experience, attain great success in the stock market. From $25 to $10,000 can thus be invested with vast advantage. The new explanatory circular, with "uncerring rules for success," mailed by Messers, Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City.

Dr. Bock, of Leipsie, Says the nervousness and peerishness of our times are chiefly attributable to tea and coffee. The discoulte organs of confirmed coffee-drinkers are in a late of chronic derangement. Choconate is neural in its physical effects and is really the most narmless of our fashionable drinks. Walter Baker & Co.'s preparations are undoubtedly the best, and may be had of grocers everywhere.

Each of Warner's Safe Remedics—the Safe Kid-ney and Liver Cure, Safe Pills, Safe Nervine and Safe Bitters—is asserted to be the best of its class, and the intention is to keep it so. If any medical expert can add an ingredient which will improve any one of them, he will be paid a high price for the improvement. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
